37 CFR 1.56: DUTY TO DISCLOSE INFORMATION MATERIAL TO PATENTABILITY,

- A patent by its very nature is affected with a public interest. The public interest is best served, and the most effective patent examination occurs when, at the time on application is being examined, the Office is aware of and evaluates the teachings of all information material to patentability. Each individual associated with the filling and prosecution of a patent application has a duty of candor and good fault in dealing with the Office, which includes a duty to disclose to the Office all information shown to that individual to be material to patentability of a dealined in this section. The duty to disclose information exists with respect to each pending darm until the claim its canceled or withdrawn from consideration, or the application becomes abendoned, information material to the patentability of an object to exist the patentability of any claim remaining under consideration in the application. There is no duty to submit information which is not material to the patentability of any claim remaining under consideration in the application. There is no duty to submit information to be material to be material to be the application. The duty to disclose all information to be material to patentability is dearwed to be satisfied to be satisfied to the Office and the office in the manner prescribed by as 1.97(b)-(d) and 1.98. However, no patent will be granted on an application in connection with which fraud on the Office was practiced or attempted or the duty of disclosure was violated through bad faith or intentional misconduct. The Office encourages applicants to carefully examine:

 prior art clied in search reports of a foreign patent office in a counterpart application, and the closest information over which individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application believe any pending claim patentability effects.

 (b) Under this section information is material to patentability when it is not cumulative to information sheady of record or being made of record in the application, and

 - (b) Under this section information is material to patentability when it is not cumulative to information stready of record or being made of record in the application, and
 - it establishes, by itself or in combination with other information, a prima facte case of unpatentability of a claim; or it refutes, or is inconsistent with, a position the applicant takes in;

 (i) Opposing an argument of unpatentability relied on by the Office, or Asserting an argument of patentability.

Asserting an argument of patentability. (i) Asserting an argument of patentability.

A prima facie case of unpatentability is satabilished within the Information compets a conclusion that a claim is unpatentable under the preponderance of evidence, burden-of-prior standard, giving each term in the claim its broadest reasonable construction consistent with the specification, and before any consideration is given to evidence which may be submitted in an attempt to establish a contrary conclusion of patentability.

(c) Individuals associated with the filing or prosecution of a patent application within the meaning of this section are:

(1) Each inventor named in the application;

(2) Each attempt or agent who prepares or prosecuties the application; and

Every other person who is substantively involved in the preparation or prosecution of the application and who is associated with the the assignee or with anyone to whom there is an obligation to assign the application.

(d) Individuals other than the attorney, agent or inventor may comply with this section by disclosing information to the attorney, agent, or inventor.

35 U.S.C. 102: CONDITIONS FOR PATENTABILITY: NOVELTY AND LOSS OF RIGHT TO PATENT

- A person shall be entitled to a patent unless—

 (a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a ponted publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof (a) the by the applicant for patent, or
- by the applicant for patent, or

 (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of the application for patent in the United States, or

 (c) he has spandoned the invention, or

 (d) the invention was first patented or caused to be patented, or was the subject of an inventor's certificate, by the applicant or his legal representatives or assigns in a foreign country prior to the date of the application for patent in this country on an application for patent or inventor's certificate filed more than twelve months before the filing of the application in the United States, or
- (e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or

- spaceans for patent, or (f) he did not himself invent the subject matter sought to be patented, or (g) he did not himself invention thereof the invention was made in this country by another who had not abandoned, suppressed, or concealed it. In determining priority of invention there shall be considered not only the respective dates of conception and reduction to practice of the invention, but also the reasonable diligence of one who was firet to conceive and last to reduce to practice, from a time paper to conception by the other.

35 U.S. C. 103: CONDITIONS FOR PATENTABILITY: NON-OBVIOUS SUBJECT MATTER

A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negative by the manner in which the invention was made.

Subject matter developed by another person, which qualifies as prior art only under subsection (f) or (g) of section 102 of this title, shall not preclude patentability under this section where the subject matter and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same

35 U.S.C. 119: BENEFIT OF EARLIER FILING DATE IN FOREIGN COUNTY: RIGHT OF PRIORITY (Applicable Portion)

An application for patent for an invention field in this country by any person who has, or whose legal representatives or assigns have, previously regularly field an application for a patent for the same invention in a foreign country which affords similar privileges in the case of applications filled in the United States or to citizens of the United States, shall have the same effect as the same application would have if filed in this country on the date on which the application for patent for the same invention was first filed in such foreign country. If the application in this country is filed within twelve monthly from the earliest date on which such foreign application was filed; but no patent shall be granted on any application for a patent for an invention which has been patented or described in a printed publication in any country more than one year before the date of the actual filing of the application in this country, or which had been in public use or on sale in this country more than one year prior to such filing.

35 U.S.C. 128: BENEFIT OF EARLIER FILING DATE IN THE UNITED STATES

An application for patent for an invention disclosed in the manner provided by the first paragraph of section 112 of this title in an application previously filed in the United States, or as provided by section 363 of this title, by the same invention shall have the same effect, as to such invention, as though filed on the date of the prior application. If filed before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the first application or on an application smilarly entitled to the benefit of the fifting date of the first application and if it contains or is amended to contain a specific reference to the earlier field application.

35 U.S.C. 112: SPECIFICATION (Applicable Portion)

The Specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the making and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enabler any person skilled in the art to which it perfains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make the use the same, and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctive claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

I hereby declare that all statements made herein of my own knowledge are true and that all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true; and further that these statements were made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statements may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued thereon.
